

Media Talk Points for Interviews with psychotherapist Carol Smaldino

The Human Climate: Facing the Divisions within Us and Between Us

Dignity Press January 2019

Book available on www.amazon.com and thru Ingram Content

1. Please talk briefly about your background, where you are located, and what lead you to the subject of this book, The Human Climate: Facing the Divisions Within Us and Between Us?
2. What is The Human Climate? What is the essence of empathy that you talk about?
3. Author Christian Piccolini, co-founder of Life After Hate writes... "Carol Smaldino helps us recognize how a yearning to belong can tragically, when not recognized and fulfilled, turn into a desperate need that can even lead to extremism." Can you expand on this? What does he mean?
4. How can people use what you have to say?
5. What can the reader learn?
6. What have been some of the results of your work? Please share an example
7. Please describe some practical uses of the book, who it is for?
8. How has the work in The Human Climate changed your life? What did you learn?
9. Why is emotional and shadow exploration so important?
10. What is the overriding thought you wish your readers to carry with them about the world today and their role in it?

Media contact: WJ Carrel authorambassador@aol.com Skype: WellnessShepherd